We are committed to protect our employees, agency workers, contractors, customers, suppliers, and the wider community at Micronclean by ensuring safe working conditions are always in place. We strive for a culture driven by putting positive and progressive health, safety and wellbeing at the forefront of everything we do.

Everyone is responsible for helping us deliver this vision. We will:

- 1. Promote a leadership approach to involve and engage everyone so everyone is supported and empowered on all aspects of health, safety & wellbeing with the ability to confidently challenge unsafe working conditions.
- 2. Ensure everyone is equipped with the right information, instruction, training and supervision to competently manage health, safety and wellbeing risks.
- 3. Provide and maintain safe plant and equipment and make available the provision of suitable protective personal equipment to ensure everyone can do the work required of them.
- 4. Make sure adequate resources are available to deliver our health, safety and wellbeing arrangements.
- 5. Operate reporting systems for accidents, near misses and unsafe conditions that are readily available to everyone and use the information to deliver improvements that result in fewer accidents and work-related ill health
- 6. Actively seek and engage with external organisations to collaborate and deliver improvements and ensure compliance.
- 7. Drive continual improvement and safe ways of working through our Health & Safety Steering Board and supporting governance framework.

Our policy statement outlines the commitment of our company and is supported by our wider health & safety management systems.
