Environmental and Energy Policy Statement

Micronclean is committed to its ambition to be the most sustainable specialist textiles and cleanroom consumables business on the planet. We will reduce and eliminate our impacts on the environment through our three pillars: Our Climate, Our Circular Economy, and Our People & Communities. Our Environmental and Energy Management Systems will help us achieve this ambition by driving continuous improvement and putting the environment at the forefront of everything we do.

Everyone is responsible for helping up deliver this vision. We will:

1. Promote a proactive and facilitating approach to environmental and energy management so everyone is supported and empowered to make sustainable decisions.
2. Comply with all relevant legislation, permits and standards and monitor new and upcoming changes to ensure timely introduction into the business.
3. Monitor and measure our carbon emissions through action plans setting out our pathway to net zero and opportunities to improve efficiency of our existing assets and plans to utilise renewable energy.
4. Create a circular economy through sustainable supply chain management, innovative product development systems to reduce packaging and water use, ensure efficient chemical usage, implement textile recycling, and recycle, reduce, and eliminate waste to protect the environment and prevent pollution.
5. Ensure the health, safety and wellbeing of our people, customers, suppliers, contractors, and communities through systems to support learning, diversity, equality, and inclusion and by creating social value by protecting and improving biodiversity.
6. Maintain an Environmental & Energy Management System with the aim to continually improve through strategic oversight by setting objectives and targets including the regular assessment of environmental aspects and developing programmes to drive improvement.
7. Promote a culture of environmental awareness throughout all levels of the company through MicronGreen and SKIES; Stewardship, Knowledge, Innovation and Excellence.

Our policy statement outlines the commitment of our company to MicronGreen and is supported by our environmental and energy management systems.
